DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's amendment was received on 4/12/06, and has been entered and made of record. Currently, claims 1-3, 12-19, and 21-26 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 21-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Larsson et al. (U.S. Patent Number 7,028,102).

Regarding claim 21, Larsson discloses a terminal for an information input/output system including printing apparatuses connected with an Internet (see Figs. 1-3), the terminal being configured to connect with the Internet to access information contents on the Internet and to transmit printing request data including at least a contents ID specifying information contents for printing from among the information contents on the Internet, and a print outputting destination ID specifying one of the printing apparatuses for printing therewith specified information contents for printing (see Figs. 8, 9, and 11), said terminal comprising: a display screen configured to display accessed information contents thereon (column 11, lines 8-39); and a printing button configured to input, when depressed, an instruction to transmit the printing request data including the contents ID and the print outputting destination ID directly to the printing request administration server (see Figs. 8, 9, and 11, and column 11, lines 8-column 12, line 64), wherein the printing button is separate from an operation button, which is displayed on the display screen of the terminal within the information contents being displayed on the display screen and which links, when selected, the printing request data to the printing request administration server (see Figs. 8, 9, and 11, and column 12, lines 12-64, whereby the user initiates printing at event 924 with selection of a printing operation, and then a connection is linked to the print server at request 932 and after being selected by a user).

Regarding claim 22, Larsson discloses the terminal discussed above in claim 21, and further teaches that the printing button comprises one of a soft button, which is displayed by software at a predetermined position on the display screen of the terminal, and a mechanical push-button switch, which is arranged at a part of the terminal (column 11, line 8-column 12, line 64, whereby the display of telephone 100 inherently displays the print button at a predetermined position on the display, and inherently includes a switch as part of the hardware inside the telephone to activate processing).

Regarding claim 23, Larsson discloses the terminal discussed above in claim 21, and further teaches that the printing button is configured such that when the printing button is depressed, a part of information stored in the terminal is transmitted to the printing request administration server (see Figs. 8, 9, and 11, and column 11, line 8-column 12, line 64).

Regarding claim 24, Larsson discloses the terminal discussed above in claim 21, and further teaches that the printing button is configured such that when the printing button is depressed, information stored in the terminal is transmitted to the printing request administration server (see Figs. 8, 9, and 11, and column 11, line 8-column 12, line 64).

Regarding claim 25, Larsson discloses the terminal discussed above in claim 23, and further teaches that it is selectively determined whether to display on the display screen of the terminal the part of information stored in the terminal and which is to be transmitted to the printing request administration server when the printing button is depressed (see Figs. 8, 9, and 11, and column 11, line 8-column 12, line 64).

Regarding claim 26, Larsson discloses the terminal discussed above in claim 24, and further teaches that it is selectively determined whether to display on the display screen of the terminal information stored in the terminal and which is to be transmitted to the printing request administration server when the printing button is depressed (see Figs. 8, 9, and 11, and column 11, line 8-column 12, line 64).

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1-3 and 12-19 are allowed.
5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Regarding claims 1 and 12, in the examiner's opinion, it would not have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have the systems with the complete structure, as claimed, further include the features of a printing request administration server configured to receive printing request data transmitted directly from the terminal, and to transmit the printing request data directly to the at least one of the facsimile servers and printer servers determined according to the print outputting destination ID.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
